CITY COUNCIL RULES 4-1

County continues city dispatching

Campbell will stay with the county communications system for the next year instead of operating its own dispatching unit, the City Council decided by a 4-1 vote at a special meeting on Monday.

The Council is expected to execute the agreement with the county at the regular City Council meeting next Monday, June 14.

At the meeting last Monday, the Council decided to offer $750,000 in bonds ($500,000 for streets and $220,000 for parks) for sale on June 29, and authorized a substantial raise in pay for Police Captain Don Burr, acting police chief since Chief John Morgan was stricken on Feb. 14.

The raise for Burr (from his present $1470 per month to $1600) will be effective July 1 and was an indication by the city fathers that they were satisfied with the way the acting chief had taken hold.

It was pointed out at the Council meeting that it was imperative that the additional street bonds be sold in order to provide partial funding for the improvement of the streets in the city hall periphere, a project that is estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $150,000.

Plans and specifications for this project are scheduled to be presented to the City Council at the Council meeting next Monday, June 14.

~~The street project included~~

The street project includes the improvement of Grant St. to Third; Third St. from Grant to Campbell, and First and Central between Grant and Campbell. It also includes the construction of that portion of the "north loop" from Central to First.

The job will be financed from street improvement money, gas tax and a local

ONE OF THE DIFFICULT tasks that face us from time to time is reporting the death of a personal friend.

We are well aware, of course, that death is inevitable and all of us must go some time.

But in all our years of newspapering we have found that there is nothing as trying as putting down in cold type the vital facts that are contained in the obituary of a friend.

Obviously during the years we have spent putting one word after another in print, it has been necessary to write many obituaries of people we have known.

And it doesn't get any easier.

SOMEHOW THE FACTS... date of birth, occupation, survivors, et al, seem so cold and impersonal.

As we write the factual account, we always seem to recall personal incidents from our past association with our deceased friend that prove unsettling and disturbing to our train of thought.

One of the most difficult ones to write was that of Dick Adams, acting postmaster, who was struck down at the age of 44 with a sudden and fatal heart attack at his home on a Saturday afternoon.

From the time we were informed of Dick's death, on Sunday morning, by Mary Moore, an associate of Dick's in the post office, to the final rites at the cemetery, we found Dick's passing most difficult to believe.

Even after we had written the obituary.

THERE HAVE BEEN OCcasions in the past when we have been called upon to write obituaries of relatives and friends with whom we probably were closer than we were with Dick.

Yet in Dick's case, because of a sort of routine that had been established over the years in the picking up of the office mail, hardly a day passed in which we did not have conversation with Dick, of a light or serious vein, depending on the situation.

Our last conversation was on the day before his death when he indicated that he thought he would be able to fill in on our foursome on the golf course.

He had filled in a couple of weeks previously and he wanted to get his money back, he emphasized.

He was looking forward to playing with us on Wednesday.....

His funeral was on Tuesday.....

DICK WAS UNASSUMING and self-effacing.

So much so that we found we had no photo of him in our mug file.

After Adams took over as officer-in-charge of the local post office when Jim Hurley retired, we often suggested that we needed a picture of him for our files. But he would always put it off.

The photos we did use were taken by Jim Hurley. Jim had insisted on the day he left the office that he wanted a picture of Dick at the desk "taking over".

We have taken more space than we intended to tell you all this.

But we think you will understand.

You see, we will miss Dick.

EDUCATION FROM THE SKY---Students and faculty at Rosemary School were somewhat startled Friday morning when they found a parachute and an odd-looking box hanging from a tree in the kindergarten playyard at the school, 480 E. Hamilton Ave.

The funny-looking thing turned out to be a weather data collector, complete with dismantling and mailing instructions. The boxlike object was sent up by a heavy balloon which was designed to burst at a high altitude and cause a bright orange parachute to open, bringing it gently to the ground.

Students planning to open the box and prepare it for mailing are, left to right: Sharilyn Scoppettone and Tana Nyland, holding the box; Bernie Glasauer, with the remains of the balloon, and Brian Bagley and Tom Mayberry, examining the parachute which brought the object down.

Later the students reported that inside information indicated that the balloon had been launched at 3:15 PST that same morning at Oakland International Airport and that they were to mail it to Gillette, Illinois---at no postage charge!

IN DISTRICT AFFAIRS

Teachers make big pitch for more "involvement"

A subdued "demonstration" by teachers was staged at the school board meeting Monday night.

Through written communications, supplemented by oral elaborations, teachers of the Campbell Union (elementary) School District, through their association president, indicated to the trustees that they wanted to become more involved in decision-making functions of the district.

An overflow crowd, composed predominately of teachers, supplemented points made by Herb Wadley, CETA president, by the waving of banners emphasizing the need for teacher involvement.

The teachers' representative submitted that the teachers wanted to become more involved in matters concerning budget drafting, selection of administrators, tax elections, class sizes and curricula. Wadley had submitted five different letters with the request that he be allowed to speak on the items mentioned in the letters.

That request was granted. But the board did not take any official action on the matters presented.

Prior to the "involvement" presentation, the board presented Robert Akita, Rolling Hills eighth grader, with a special commendation as an outstanding student. Robert has been especially active in conservation activities.

The board also was presented with a recording of Rolling Hills music students by Tom Fox and Ken Taylor, music teachers at the school.

Approved by the board on Monday night was the joint powers agreement between the City of Campbell and the school district for the development of neighborhood parks at seven of the district schools. The city will allocate $10,000 to each park.

Jim D'Avis submitted the preliminary budget of $10.5 million to the trustees. The time table calls for the preliminary budget to be adopted by July 1 and the final bud-

Commission continues action on nine-story building

Action on the proposed plans for a nine-story commercial-office-apartment building at Llewellyn and W. Hamilton was continued by the Planning Commission on Monday until the Tuesday, July 6 meeting of the Commission.

The deferrment on the public hearing for the planned development project submitted by Central Development Co. on the 8.7 acre parcel will allow staff time to research the traffic pattern for the nine-story complex.

The Commission on Monday also continued for two weeks any action on the plans for a warehouse for Belk Electric at 1624 Dell; an application for a "Sambo's" restaurant sign in the new San Tomas Plaza shopping center and the hearing on the landscape ordinance. Also continued was the application of J. Heer for an industrial building at 279-285 Dillon Ave.

Boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 18 are invited to compete in the eight divisions that will be scheduled. A $3 entry fee will be charged. Trophies will be awarded for first place winners and ribbons for second and third spots.

All entries will receive a tennis patch for their sweater or jacket. A free lunch will be provided the participants.

Additional information can be obtained by contacting Don Russell (227-5889) or Ralph Veit (379-7897).

ENTRY DEADLINE IS TODAY

Gals can compete in third annual C of C golf tournament on June 16

There will be no discrimination against sexes in the third annual Chamber of Commerce golf tournament at Riverside Golf Course on Wednesday, June 16, the CofC directors have ruled.

Gals can compete against the men.

Deadline for entry for the gala golf event is today, Wednesday, June 9. Those wishing to take part should contact the Chamber of Commerce, 100 W. Rincon (P.O. Box 85), phone 378-6252.

The fee is $15, which includes a buffet lunch at 11:30 a.m., green fees and barbecue at 5:30 p.m. Ed Meszaros is chairman of the annual affair with Bob Blonder in charge of scheduling the foursomes and other details relative to the awarding of prizes. The Rev. W.H. (Ben) Gould will act as the master-of-ceremonies at the award ceremonies at the barbecue.

Tee-off time will be at 12:30 p.m. with foursomes driving off on all holes at the shotgun blast.

The entry list is limited to 100 and Chamber of Commerce members will have priority with guests filling out the field.

The directors at their last meeting felt it was necessary to correct the misunderstanding that the tournament was strictly a stag affair.

Women golfers will be welcomed, the board ruled, if they have a Chamber of Commerce affiliation. It was also pointed out, however, that there will be no special classification for the gal golfers. They will compete on the same level as the men.

According to the tournament officials, golfers without established handicaps will compete under the Calloway system and established handicaps will be used for all others.

Those who will not stay for the barbecue at the end of the tourney will be charged $7.50. For those who want the dinner only without golf, the fee will also be $7.50.

Those who want to reserve carts should call Riverside at 227-9110.

Dick will be missed

No one seems ever really "prepared" when death strikes down a close friend, no matter how long the friend may have suffered beforehand.

But when a friend goes without any prior warning, as was the case of Dick Adams, acting postmaster, who died almost instantaneously from a heart attack on May 29 at his home, the shock is that much greater.

Dick was only 44 years of age when he died and 20 of those 44 years had been spent in the Campbell post office where he started as clerk and, at the time of his death, was "officer-in-charge", or acting postmaster.

He had been appointed to that position upon the retirement on November 1, 1969 of Jim Hurley as postmaster, under whom Dick had served as assistant. Adams had also served as assistant postmaster under Mrs. Ellis Litynsky and the late Ira Grim.

In recent weeks reliable sources had indicated that Adams was the leading candidate for the permanent appointment as postmaster.

Your editor had known Dick Adams personally for almost 16 years and we counted him as one of our personal friends.

DICK ADAMS
—he will be missed—

He was popular and well-liked by almost everyone who knew him, and in addition, he was an efficient and capable postal service professional.

He loved to "circulate" throughout the lobby and office, joking with patrons and employees alike. But everyone knew, no matter how much they kidded him, that he was "on top" of the situation.

He enjoyed mixing with the "regular customers" who called at the post office daily for their mail and he was a past master at the repartee that would be bandied back and forth.

He didn't seem to mind the "needling" his friends would give him about "poor service" or when "carrier pigeons" were going to be used to improve mail delivery and similar bantering jibes.

He generally gave back better than he received and all recognized he was conscientiously trying to do the best job that could be done under the circumstances.

He was held in respect by the employees of the post office, but he had that humanizing quality that tempered even the most unpopular directives.

We recall that during the heavy Christmas rush at the local post office, people would come from other areas to do "their business" at the Campbell office because they liked "the pleasant and courteous treatment they would get. Of course, the post office didn't need the "extra business" at that particular time, but it was nice to know.

Obviously, that was not all Dick's doing, but it does indicate how well he had instilled a good public relations atmosphere in the local office.

We liked Dick immensely, not only because of his dedication to his vocation, but also because of his personal traits which made him truly good company.

Probably his outstanding characteristic was his ability, on the surface at least, to be pleasant, good-natured and understanding, under pressure of varying degrees.

His sudden passing at such a comparatively early age was a shock to all of us who knew him well. Even those who only had a passing acquaintance with him were shaken by his untimely death.

Hundreds attended the funeral services to pay their last respects to a well-liked public official who, untiringly, had tried to serve the public to the best of his ability in an understanding manner.

That he had succeeded in an outstanding manner was evidenced by the many who were on hand when he was laid to rest.

Business and professional people, postal employees, city personnel, civic leaders and "just friends" were there at the solemn rites.

Yes, Dick will be missed.

he's somewhat reticent about his experiences".

We imagine it will be quite a change for Father Ahern from "Q" to Saratoga.

The reason we were interested in the change was that we recall that Father Ahern was for six years (1954 to 1960) assistant pastor at St. Lucy's in Campbell.

From Campbell he was sent to St. Agnes in San Francisco and from there he went to San Quentin.

Father Ahern, a native of San Francisco, came to St. Lucy's in Campbell directly after being ordained, just two years before we took over The Campbell Press.

And the newspaper account refers to Father Ahern as "middle-aged".

Just where does that put us, age-wise?

Don't answer that.

THE NEWS STORY WE referred to described in some detail the work of chaplains at San Quentin.

It has been less than 20 years, incidentally, since California prison chaplains have been full time professionals, although chaplains have served at the prison since 1858, just a few years after the prison opened.

Father Ahern reported that he found his years at San Quentin tough---lots of frustration mingled with occasional satisfaction of helping rehabilitate a man.

It was noted also that there has been an effort in recent years to get men back in the community as fast as possible.

In contrast to those inmates of "Q" who are not able to get home at night, Father Ahern indicated that he enjoyed his years at the prison but was looking forward to the change to Saratoga.

Ten years is quite a stretch in prison.

Even for a chaplain.

SOME OF YOU WITH longer memories than others will recall that we reported in this column some time ago (around Mother's Day) that Charmaine Paul, wife of Norm, CofC prexy and planning commissioner, had broken both her wrists when she attempted to break her fall on a school playground where she was assisting kids in their roller-skating.

Charmaine, we understand, is almost fully recovered but we are not sure what shape Norm is in from carrying the extra household load.

Norm, of course, now has become overly-conscious of the possible dangers that lurk on playgrounds.

This was brought to mind when he was asked to participate as a planning commissioner in the recent bike drag race sponsored by the JayCees at the high school field.

Norm suggested that it would be the height of something or other, based on the way Charmaine's two broken wrists had disrupted the Paul household, to tempt fate.

In a bike race.

CIVIC-MINDED INDIVIDUALS who take an active part in various community organizations and are also on an official governmental advisory body, sometimes have trouble changing their hats.

This was brought to mind recently at a Chamber of Commerce directors meeting. Two CofC directors, Norm Paul and Myron Alexander, are also members of the Planning Commission.

A CofC committee, headed by Holly Vollenweider, is working closely with the city in the hammering out of a workable landscaping ordinance. The proposed ordinance is now before the Planning Commission.

In fact, the public hearing has been continued by that body so that differences of opinion can be worked out before the Commission takes action.

Holly, at the CofC board meeting, wanted the endorsement of the directors for the committee's recommendation.

Although there was no conflict of interest involved, it was suggested that the two commissioners - directors should abstain from voting on the recommendation.

The point was, of course, that, if Norm and Myron took part in the CofC discussion on the landscape issue, they could be accused of having "prejudged" the matter when they sat as planning commissioners at the public hearing on the same issue.

improvement district.

At next Monday's meeting, the Council is expected to adopt specifications for the city hall furnishings and to call for bids. Jeff Whittaker, city finance director, has been assisted by Miles Tully, of Campbell Office Machines, in the drawing up of the specifications for the furnishings which has been estimated to cost about $90,000.

In another related city hall matter, a report from the Chamber of Commerce is expected next Monday on the status of the clock tower. The CofC has been spearheading a drive to raise the $5000 that is needed for the tower. The report is expected to include the exact cost of construction, furnished by Bill Hedley, architect for the city hall, as well as how much more money is needed.

NEIGHBORHOOD PARKS

At last Monday's meeting, the City Council approved the joint powers agreement with the Campbell Union (elementary) School District in which the city will allocate $10,000 to each of seven schools in the district for the development of neighborhood parks. Coincidentally at the same time the Council was approving the agreement.

BUDGET

Next Monday, June 14, the Council will officially hold a public hearing on the $4.3 million preliminary budget that has been submitted by City Manager Bob Stephens. No action, however, will be taken on the budget, but the Council will adjourn to various hearing sessions during the month before adopting the preliminary budget by July 1. The final budget will not be adopted until August, when the actual assessment figures will be available.

Next Monday the Council is also scheduled to adopt the new rates for trash pickup services in town that have been approved. One-can pickup rate will go from the present $1.50 to $1.75 and other increases will be comparable.

COUNTY RADIO

The decision to stay with the county communication system for another year climaxed a long drawn-out study of the situation when the pros and cons were presented and analyzed.

Campbell is now paying $16,488 for dispatch services for the police ($14,932); fire ($1369) and public works ($187).

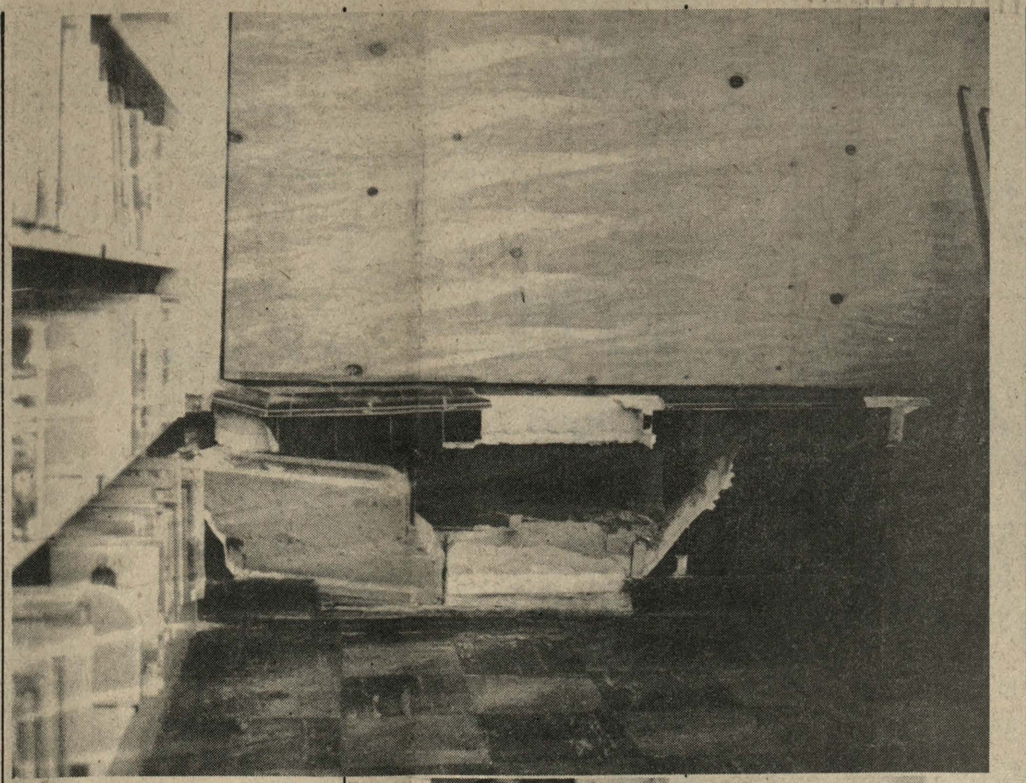
The county first submitted that the cost would go to $39,424 next year and jump past $55,000 the next year. Because the city has its own equipment ready to go, it was estimated by Police Captain Don Burr that the city could operate its own system with three additional personnel for a cost of $30,000.

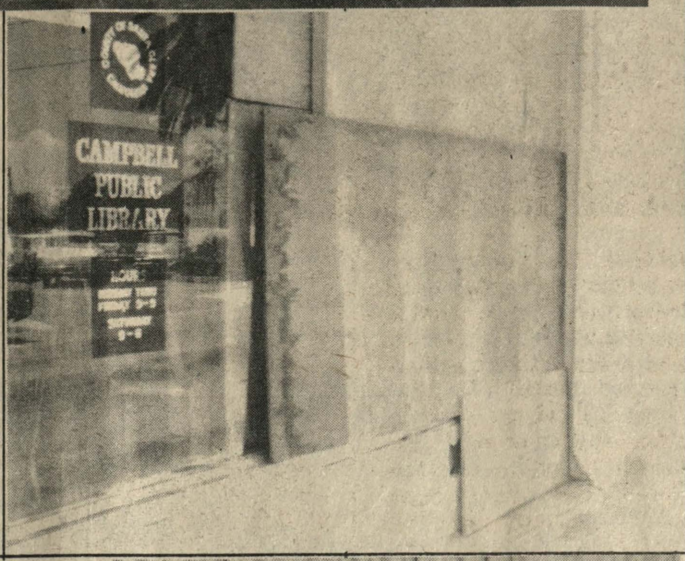
The county subsequently revised its figures so that there would be no savings this year to the city to operate its own program. Based on that fact and also because the city might have to fight a tough time-table to be ready to go on its own on July 1, the Council by a 4-1 vote decided to stay with the county for another year.

It was emphasized that the year will allow the city to get the bugs out of its own system without the pressure of time. Councilman Bill Podgorsek opposed staying with the county, but his fellow councilmen overruled him.

Up for approval at next Monday's meeting also will be the tentative subdivision map for a 9.1 acre plot located near the intersection of McCoy and Harriett and west of San Tomas Rd.

The map submitted by George S. Nolte & Associates calls for the subdivision to be composed of 39 single-family lots, the first such subdivision to be presented to the city for a number of years.





EARLY MORNING OPENING---The motorist who entered the Campbell Public Library, 349 E. Campbell Ave. at shortly after one a.m. Friday morning didn't even try the door. Rather, his vehicle, after reportedly striking a parked car near the Bee Hive Lounge, made a rather unorthodox turn at Central and Campbell Avenues, making a new entrance at the library's rear. The driver, James Albert Everson, was taken to Valley Medical Center, according to Campbell Police Dept. reports.

TOP WINNERS---Two senior students from high schools in the Campbell Union High School District were winners of $1000 each as finalists in the Bank of America's achievement awards program. Barbara Buxton (center), of Westmont High School, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F.V. Buxton, of Saratoga, was the winner in the vocational arts field and John Fischer (right) of Del Mar High, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Fischer, of San Jose, won the liberal arts top award. Students from Willow Glen High School in San Jose were the other two top winners. Presenting the awards banquet in Monterey last Thursday is A.R. Zipf, executive vice-president of the BofA's San Francisco headquarters.

Build a Better Burger with Fresh
Ground Beef
from SAFEWAY DISCOUNT

Safeway Ground Beef is made to be the BEST in town, not the cheapest. The fresh morsels of beef which flow from our meat grinders are juicy, tender, and filled with flavor. Naturally we use only FRESH U.S.D.A. Inspected beef... Never, never imported frozen meats. We keep the grinder blades razor sharp so they CUT the meat, keeping the juice inside. We GUARANTEE you'll like our Ground Beef!

Workshop for drama students

The School of Performing Arts will hold a summer workshop at St. Martin's School on O'Conner Drive this summer for youngsters from 7-15.

Scheduled is a production of "Little Red Riding Hood" for July 31 and August 1 at 3 p.m. in the St. Martin's Parish Hall. There is a registration fee of $5.

This workshop is the first of its kind for many years at St. Martin's. It is being run twice a week, on Tuesday and Thursday mornings, from 9 - 11:30, beginning on June 22.

The youngsters will be given an opportunity to sing, dance, perform synchronized stage movement, and develop acting skills under an experienced staff.

Directing this production will be John P. Healy, Jr., a Stanford musical theater student, and Resident Director of San Jose Children's Musical Theater. The workshop will be limited to 50 youngsters on a first come, first accepted basis.

Applications are available at the St. Martin's School office this week, or by calling 371-0232 or 295-3488, or by coming to the first session on Tuesday, June 22.

Dr. Corwin Olds speaks on Hawaiian pastoral experience

Dr. Corwin H. Olds, Minister-emeritus of the Congregational Church of Campbell, will be the speaker at a special Hawaiian Luau celebration in the church on Wednesday, June 16, at 6:30 p.m. He will report on the present-day Hawaiian churches founded by the early missionaries of New England fame. This past winter he was interim pastor for these island churches and will bring a first-hand report, "Bread Upon The Water."

Sponsored by the Congregational Church's Stewardship Board, the Luau is open to the community. A pre-dinner Hawaiian punch will be served in the Mall where flaming torches and Hawaiian serenaders will greet the guests.

Hawaiian dress is not mandatory but suggested. An Americanized-Hawaiian meal will be served. Reservations may be obtained through the Church office, 378-4418.

Dr. Olds, a prominent Campbell resident, started his ministry 49 years ago in Maine, served in the Royal Air Force in World War I. In World War II he was a chaplain, appointed head of the Chaplains Corps in the Central Pacific Base Command.

Work and residence in Hawaii introduced him to Hawaiian life, before he returned to California.

He recently retired as Brigadier General of the National Guard Chaplain Corps, and has served the La Selva Beach Congregational Church on a part-time basis until this past year.

Proceeds from the Luau will be used for the United Church Board for World Ministries, a continuation of the American Board of Commissions for Foreign Missions who first evangelized the Hawaiian Islands. Mrs. Pat Edwards is chairman of the Board of Stewardship.

Saratoga Drama Group holds "Oklahoma" auditions this week

In nearby Saratoga, the non-profit organization called The Saratoga Drama Group, whose productions are supported entirely by ticket sales, is preparing the much-loved show by Rodgers and Hammerstein, "Oklahoma!" to open on September 24.

The Group has had theatrical success without sponsors, advertisers, or social membership and consists of working members only.

Membership is open to anyone interested in theater and willing to participate actively in putting on a production, experienced or not. In the group are people of all ages and various backgrounds, bringing much vitality and excitement to each show.

The Saratoga Drama Group originated in the Saratoga Federated Church in 1963, filling a need for theater-type activity stressing family participation. It began by presenting straight plays and going on to musicals with "South Pacific" in 1964 and "The King and I" in 1965.

Because of the popularity and success of the musicals the group was encouraged to move into the Saratoga Civic Theatre and the Saratoga Drama Group was born.

In 1966, the popularity of "Guys and Dolls" and "Music Man" proved their decision correct.

"Hello Dolly", which sold out all fourteen performances, just closed.

"Oklahoma!" is to be staged with exciting, new concepts from sets to costumes, and will be directed by C. Michael Traw, the talented young man who gave "Dolly" its professional polish.

Marion Cherry will produce "Oklahoma!". Mrs. Cherry has been with the group since it started and has contributed her talents to many phases, earning her the reputation of being a perfectionist in producing.

A large cast and crew will be needed for this show. Anyone interested in participating is invited to attend the auditions to be held Saturday and Sunday, June 12 and 13 at 1 p.m. at the Saratoga Civic Theatre, 13777 Fruitvale, Saratoga. For additional information, call Marion Cherry, 867-1575.

Letters to the Editor

A LITTLE ONE SIDED

It seems that with every major operation the United States undertakes, in Vietnam, protests and demonstrations increase in the United States. How wise is this? Is it really helping the United States to end the war?

Let's look at some examples.

In the spring of 1970, President Nixon made the decision to deploy U.S. troops in Cambodia. The objective of the mission was to destroy supply caches and ammunition that the Viet Cong had been building up over a period of time, to launch a major operation against South Vietnam. Saigon was in a perilous position in the face of such an attack. The mission proved to be a success. More than 11,000 of the enemy were killed, thousands wounded, and the rest retreated. More than 22,000 weapons were captured; along with 13 million rounds of ammunition and 6,000 tons of rice. The toll of American lives was 331, less than average.

Yet some still say the war was expanded. No country in Southeast Asia has been excluded from the war, and no country will be exempt in the future.

Yet, suppose the United States did not undertake the mission? U. S. authorities claimed that a major communist drive was held up for months as a result of it. But had Nixon not made his decision at that time, our boys would have been bogged down in South Vietnam, on the defensive. A faster withdrawal of troops would have been impossible.

The recent campaign in Laos resulted in another uproar in the U.S. This time, the U.S. had the chance to cripple the communists for good.

The Ho Chi Minh trail served as a main supply line for the Viet Cong. It extends Hanoi in North Vietnam, through Laos and branches out into Cambodia and South Vietnam. This trail has been keeping the communists in business, and the U.S. busy throughout the war.

The supplies we had destroyed in the Cambodian operation had reached the communists through this main supply line. Nixon limited the operation to ARVN troops only, with U.S. air power. But again, we were accused of expanding the war.

What the protesters are really saying amounts to this, "Don't bomb the Ho Chi Minh trail. Don't stop the communists from sending supplies that kill our men in South Vietnam."

WE don't dare bomb the Haiphong harbor because the protesters would start it up again. But nothing is stopping Hanoi from mining the Saigon harbor. WE are accused of expanding the war everytime we move into bordering countries. WE don't dare touch North Vietnam. But at the same time, the communists can go anywhere they please all over Indo-China without being repremanded.

Americans have been quick to scold the U.S. for the massacre at My Lai. Newspapers devoted many front-page articles on this single and confused atrocity. But Americans are rarely informed of the thousands of acts of terror and aggression against the South Vietnamese, on the part of the communists. Mao Tse Tung himself has admitted the liquidation of over 600,000 innocent people who were opposed to the communists since the early 1950's.

What stories have been printed on this subject, were lost in the back pages where few people bother to read.

So wake up Americans, and recognize the real danger in Vietnam, the real threat to world peace.

WANT TEEN CLUB

Dear Editor:

I'm representing a large group of kids from Campbell Elementary School concerning a teen club. We have been working on developing a teen club that will allow junior high students to participate.

At our age we are in the middle and do not get much enjoyment out of grammar school recreation centers and we are not allowed in most high school teen centers. We have tried many routes such as the school and the city.

The school district doesn't have enough money to help us, but were interested, helpful and suggested the city route. We phoned the city office and asked about any help they could offer us, and if we could make an appointment to talk to them or for them to send someone out to talk to us.

They told us that they were not interested at this time, that they would not send out someone to talk to us. They were not very understanding and referred us to someone working on a teen club for high schoolers only. BIG HELP!

We are now, as a last resort, seeking help from organizations such as Rotary Clubs, Kiwanis, etc.

My reason for writing this letter is to have you aware of this and for your support in any way possible. If you have any suggestions or help to offer, please contact me at the address below.

HIGHWAY PATROL REPORTS

A training program for motorcycle riders, aimed at curbing the sharply increasing number of motorcycle accidents, is now available to community organizations that sponsor such traffic safety projects.

"The California Highway Patrol has had many requests from civic groups for assistance in conducting training programs for new owners of motorcycles, and we are now in a position to provide such help," Captain A. J. Zink, commander of the CHP's San Jose Area, declared.

"The motorcycle training instructros at our Academy in Sacramento developed the program, patterning it after the course that highway patrolmen themselves take to qualify for motorcycle duty.

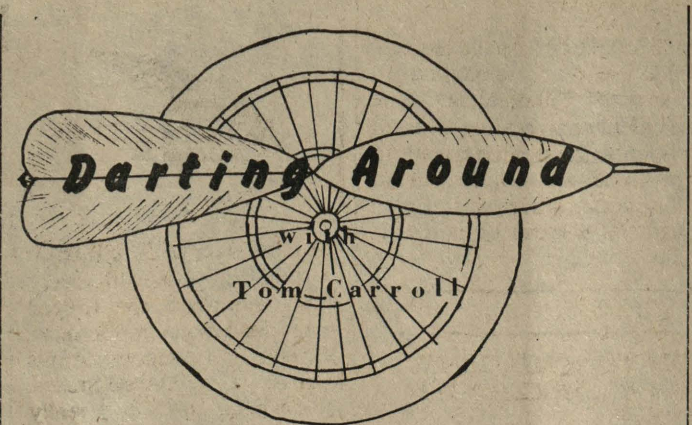
The 12-hour program is designed to use civilians as teachers, since our officers cannot serve in that capacity.

Objectives of the course are to develop the ability to safely ride a motorcycle and to develop an appreciation of the need for defensive riding tactics."

Captain Zink expressed the hope that several community groups will undertake projects of training inexperienced and new motorcycle riders.

"The need for these classes is great and will continue to grow. The increased number of motorcycles is obvious to all of us, and this increase has been accompanied by a worrisome upswing in accidents. Lack of riding skill is a frequent factor in motorcycle accidents and a good training program such as we now have could do much toward minimizing this problem.

"I would welcome inquiries from any organization that is interested in undertaking such a project."



Summer is upon us and you would think that interest in an indoor sport would wane. Even though the Northern California Darts Assn. is not operating a summer league, several teams in the Oakland-Berkeley area have formed an informal league.

In this area several pub owners are talking of holding a sort of Pro-Am type tournament at different locations throughout the summer.

Planned to create new interest in the sport, all tournaments will be doubles matches. The Pro-Am enters the picture in that each doubles pair will be composed of one association member and one non-card carrying player.

NEW PUBS

The dart pubs also abound. New in the Campbell area is Cisco's Lounge in the Riverside Plaza, 723 W. Hamilton. Owner Earl Pence says there has been quite a bit of interest since the board went up. The arrangement is such that patrons sitting at the former piano bar can watch the games. We also understand that Earl's wife, Irma has been practicing so she can take on the experts. Dart addiction has arrived.

From up the peninsula comes word that Ken Gilley, owner of the Bull and Bush in San Francisco has bought the old Swinging Door in San Mateo. Ken is changing the name to the "Prince of Wales" and will serve the same English and Cornish delicacies now found at the Bull and Bush. The new Prince of Wales will have four dart boards and a meeting room upstairs.

Gary Barker, former Bridge League Governor and NCDA Tournament Committee chairman is now managing the H. Salt, esq. Fish & Chips store in the Bailey Park Center, 570 Stierlin Rd. in Mountain View. Gary says they have plenty of room for darts and they hope to have a beer license, soon.

ALL-STAR MATCH

The South Bay League All-Stars emerged victorious once more, this time against the Chabot League All-Stars. Tony Chavarria was the only Chabot League player to win a singles game.

Karen Tyler tried for the center bull 50 point out, hitting the outer bull instead. This let Kip Fanjoy hit his double out. Karen also hit a 104 to counter Tom Carroll's 110 in the doubles game.

High scores in the team game went to Tony Chavarria with a 120 and teammate Mike Lanin with a 121. Best game of the afternoon was the doubles match between the South Bay's Des Maples and Phil Albers and the aforementioned Tony and Mike. Des and Phil won the 501 point game in 14 darts. The final score was 15 to 3 for the South Bay.

TED ALLEN BENEFIT

Ted Allen, a member of the South Bay Champion Scarlett La Rue team, was seriously injured in a motorcycle accident several weeks ago. On Sunday, June 27, a benefit doubles tournament will be held at the Gaslighter Theater, 400 E. Campbell Ave. The entry fee required will be a donation of each players choice—no fixed amount, but a minimum of $1.00. There will be trophies for the first three places.

Ted is now at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Palo Alto.

Kamper Kits, a Campbell firm, originally operated by Elmo and Frances Lowder since 1960, last fall was purchased by Robert Ramp and C.R. Bartkowski, who now devote their full time to building Kamper Kit conversions, a moderate priced version of the popular motor homes.

The firm, under the direction of Phil Babcock, production and plant manager, now builds moulded fiberglass camping vans on Ford, Chevrolet, Dodge, GMC and VW chassis.

Bob Ramp, one of the two principals of the firm, is a long-time Campbellite, having attended schools here since the third grade, going through Campbell High School and graduating from San Jose City College.

All of the campers are completely self-contained with facilities for four or more persons.

Weekly programs are part of summer reading

School age children who attend the Campbell Public Library's summer reading club have an additional treat for them this summer, according to Carol Tyler, children's librarian.

Each Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m., beginning June 22, a special hour-long program will be presented at the library, 349 E. Campbell Ave.

The schedule includes a visit to the fire department, including a tour and film on June 22 which will last an hour and a half; a puppet show titled "Sesame Street Fights Pollution" on June 29, flower arranging, pet care, and story hours.

Registration for the reading club begins June 14.

PLAY FOR TEENS --- The Chosen Few, billed as an experience in musical entertainment, will play for the first special event of the Campbell High School Teen Club on June 14 at the high school's girls' gym. The teen center will be open Monday, Wednesday and Friday through Aug. 21 according to Tom Bradler, director. Teens who live in the district and have completed the eighth grade may purchase membership cards. The dance is $1 for members and $1.50 for non-members. It starts at 8 p.m. and will conclude at 11 p.m.

Sports center opens on Union

Ted Ebert, who for the past 4½ years, has operated Ted's Gun Shop at Bascom and Union, has opened a new Ted's Sports World at 3691 Union Ave. Although Ted will continue to handle guns and reloading equipment as before, he has expanded the new store to include a complete line of sporting goods for all popular sports.

The new store, which is located on Union Ave. across from the Cambrian Plaza shopping center, has a complete line of camping accessories, fishing, football, baseball, tennis, hiking and backpacking equipment.

Ted is a native of Santa Cruz, son of Bunny Ebert, who has for years operated the popular Ebert's Super Market in Santa Cruz. Ted received his early education in Santa Cruz, attending Pacific Military Academy, Santa Cruz High School and was graduated from San Jose State.

He is married and has two sons, aged two years and six months. He resides in San Jose.

New automatic chain saw is shown here

A new automatic-oiling chain saw, the Homelite 150 Automatic, is being shown for the first time this week at Hitchcock's Garden & Power Tool store on Camden Ave. near Winchester.

The new type chain saw has been especially developed for local homeowners, weekend handymen and farmers. It combines many new features, such as fast, easy starting, perfect balance, ease of handling, finger-tip controls, full engine power, and extra long operation due to enlarged fuel capacity.

Other features, according to Alan Hitchcock, are the Sure-Grip handle bar, Softone muffler, a rugged but lightweight aluminum and magnesium hemi-head engine and the one-piece Unidyne clutch.

LUCETTES

Lucettes, a senior citizen group which meets at St. Lucy's Hall, will hold their regular get-together on Monday, June 14 from 11 to 2:30 p.m. Participants are urged to bring bag lunches and plan to enjoy games and refreshments, according to Mrs. Ann Judd, publicity chairman.

College makes program mandatory

All students enrolled at West Valley College next year will be covered by an accident insurance policy with the funds for the policy coming from the students.

Trustees of West Valley College approved a mandatory student health fee of $2 per semester per student (to be implemented this fall) to cover health services at the college.

According to James Hardy, superintendent-president, the need for student health services has grown more acute the last few years as a result of older and more mature students returning to college.

Hardy believes the fee is an interim proposal to allow the college to evaluate the need for more comprehensive student health services in the years ahead.

A full-time medical secretary, a full-time athletic trainer, a clinical psychologist on the "as needed basis" and an optional hospitalization insurance program for the students are all covered by the fee.

Trustees also levied a mandatory student union fee which begins this fall. Money from the fees will be used to pay back a $1.25 million federal bond loan used to construct the campus center on the Saratoga campus.

The fee for students taking 10 or more units is $8 per semester; less than 10 units, $4 per semester; and a summer school fee of $2 per session, effective in the summer of 1972.

In other action the board:

Approved 11 classes for adults offered through the Office of Community Services, including a dressmaking clinic, creative stitchery, food preparation, and body conditioning and weight training. All classes will be held this summer.

Accepted a gift of $6250 from two local Sunsweet Growers' Association groups to be placed in the Sunsweet Growers' Scholarship Fund.

Authorized the superintendent to contract with California's Department of Rehabilitation for continuation of vocational rehabilitation services, a program begun this past year.

Hired three additional faculty members for next year. They are: William Duquette, architectural drafting, 46, B.A. degree from UC at Berkeley; Timothy Hegstrom, speech, 23, B.A. degree from Brigham Young University and a master's from the University of Montana; Marilyn Orloff, mathematics, 22, B.A. and master's degrees from UC at Santa Barbara.
